The thought of our future is frightening at times and that of our children worries us beyond belief. That is why it is important for us to give them all the tools they may need to be able to grow into something beautiful.

A child is the most precious asset our future has. Our obligation is their guidance. We must never compromise their objectivity and naivety, for it is that freshness which allows them to see things in a different light, a pure light. We can learn from our children and it is our moral duty to pass on an unspoiled and free world to them. It is only through education and knowledge that a person may master his life. PS. The art of living is something that we all have a right to, but that only few can master.
